START MANUFACTURING.

When times are hard and there are threatened changes in the laws of the country, which many people believe would wound a good many of our industries, that is just the time for a combined effort to see if, by utilizing what is within our reach, there could not be success wrought out of the trouble. In this city that success points first to the combined movement to get under and uphold the manufactures which have been started here, and to start new ones. There is a movement on foot to uniform certain of the public officers in Utah woolen goods. That is a move in the right direction. That ought to go on. It ought to extend from one company to another, from one man to another, because the difference between buying cloth for a suit of Utah goods and buying the same cloth brought from abroad, means the difference between sending the money away in one case and keeping it home in the other. That is only a suggestion interjected into the body of this article. We started out to say just now, while times are so depressed, it ought to be the study and the effort on the part of these people to see how many men can be employed that are not at work, how many men and women, and to see what new fields can be opened for the exertions of these who are willing to work. To see, in short, how nearly self-supporting we can make this region. Denver is moving on that line, both Denver men and women. An article in a recent Denver paper gives the report of the manufactures in that city, and declares that there is a good demand for their products; that some of them are even behind with their orders; that, at the same time, the numbers increase, and they are shipping their products East, even to Nebraska and Iowa, and South to Texas; some sales are made even in New Orleans, and a great many on the Pacific Coast.

Now the men who own land here should look with generous eyes on all who wish to establish plants. If it is possible to get power down here from some of the mountain streams. The resources of the Territory are ample to give every one here employment if there only could be a touch of capital to make the working of these industries profitable. We believe there is a fortune and a place for a good many scores of men to work, in just developing, sawing and polishing onyx down west of Utah lake. We believe the women of the Territory ought to combine and see if it is possible to build up a great silk industry. Great Salt Lake is a mine of wealth if only the right brain can be backed with a little capital to put its wealth in commercial form. There ought to be a pottery here on a large scale. There ought to be glass works enough to supply all this interior region, and to get these things, and scores more, the men who can, must put things in a form so that Eastern capital and Eastern skill will be induced to come here. The Manufacturing Bureau is doing what it can. It wants to extend its work all it can. All that any one gets in this world is board and clothes. Now, if Utah could supply its people with those two essentials, this would be very nearly a self-supporting, self-sustaining and self-advancing region. Why not join hands with the Manufacturing Bureau, find out the directions which have been selected where there are openings for manufactures; find what is needed in the way of land; how much power can be utilized? In short, go to work as men would if they had a specific purpose in view and were determined to carry it through. The gods help those who help themselves.—Salt Lake Tribune.

It is all well enough to talk about starting manufactures—it would perhaps be the salvation of Nevada, but with money so scarce, and silver so low, capitalists are not willing to invest money in new enterprises. Until the circulating medium is increased, and confidence is restored, these things cannot take place.

Do Not Despair.

Although the storm king holds the passes of the Sierra Nevada, and blocks our communication with the Western slope, yet we may read and philosophize in spite of the weather. One may find good literature, old and new,—from Homer to Hugo and Dante to Dickens, at Cagwin & Noteware's. They also have all the new magazines and papers—both solid and light. You may descend from the Forum and Arena down to Puck and Judge without injury to your mind.

If musical you may find such songs, as "Goodnight and Farewell," and other choice compositions at Cagwin & Noteware's.

World's Fair Under Calcium Light

As announced in another column the exhibition and lecture on World's Fair and Midway Plaisance was postponed until Monday evening. The second lecture will be given on Saturday, Feb. 24th. Matinee on Monday afternoon, Feb. 19th, at 2 o'clock. Admission for adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

The views for both lectures are entirely different.

The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, when he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Sipping Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea, 5 cents a bottle.

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.
